SECRET
AS MAN
IS DYING

MR. REA, because he reached the age of seventy, retired from the presidency of the Pennsylvania Railroad to make room for a younger man. At seventy a man should be at his best, and Mr. Rea undoubtedly is at his best mentally, and therefore his most efficient period of his life. For men that live wisely and think as they live, the most efficient years of life should come between seventy and eighty. Gladstone was at his best when past seventy, fighting in the House of Commons debates at four in the morning.

Von Moltke was seventy when he took charge of the Prussian army and wiped out the French.

FIVE NEW ENGLAND WIVES PAY OVER $600,000 IN TAXES

WIVES SHOWN TO HAVE LARGER INCOMES THAN THEIR HUSBANDS

The yoke of Federal taxation in New England is not borne on the necks of the men folk alone.

Not by a good stocking full of wealth.

Income tax return figures from Federal tax collectors disclose the startling fact that five New England women alone paid the staggering sum of $631,444 in income taxes for 1923.

If the income taxes of all the women in the New England States were added, the figure would run far into the millions.

TOPS NEW ENGLAND LIST.

At the top of the list of heavy contributors to Uncle Sam's uppers stands Eleanor H. Rice of Newport, whose tax bill for 1923 was $225,941.33.

Tagging right along comes Louise D. Metcalf of Providence, R. I., paid $117,724.22, but this is more remarkable in view of the fact that this woman is one of a family of five, the other four being three quarters of a million income tax for the year.

The other Metcalfs of Providence who contributed such heavy

When Elsa G. Andres of Newton and Thomas H. Barrett of Brookline decided to get married, they found their path to the altar beset with more than their share of obstacles.

Elsa's father objected to the match because of the religious belief of the religious belief of the match.

Young Barrett is only twenty years old and, therefore, learned that he must go through the ordeal of obtaining his father's consent before a marriage license would be granted him.

But the young couple tackled the job bravely and now bid fair to be triumphant.

GIRL IS TWENTY-ONE

The girl sought expert advice and learned that since she was twenty-one years old, her father's opposition could not interfere with the marriage.

On the other hand, young Barrett faced his father squarely with the facts and after some pleading won the older Barrett's consent. Intensions have been filed in the City Hall at Brookline and Newton.

Although Miss Andres is aware that her father cannot stop the marriage, she has left him in ignorance of her nuptial plans, fearing to excite his wrath. The girl is living with her sister, Mrs. Charles Barrett, at No. 29 Powers street, Newtonville. Her father, and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. Louis P. Andres reside in Somerville.

ROMANCE OF SHOP

The romance of the young couple began four years ago in a Boston shop where both have been employed since.

Speaking of her sister's intended marriage, young Mrs. Barrett said: "I do not think it is wise for my sister not to let her father know of her coming marriage. I have advised her to do so, but she will not listen to me, as she is afraid of the consequences."

Strangely enough, young Mrs. Barrett herself failed to follow her own advice when she eloped a year ago to New York and was married there. Her father and other relatives did not know of her marriage until she returned to the Hub and surprised them with the news.

NO SCHOOL FOR 1,100

PUPILS IN WEBSTER

Webster, Oct. 29.—Eleven hundred pupils are without school accommodations today as result of the burning of St. Joseph's Church, the oldest Polish church building in New England. The loss is put at $25,000. The building was erected in 1881 and for the past two years had been used as a parochial school.

It also creates a serious situation in the town. The pupils had been divided into two sessions because of lack of facilities. On the adjoining lot a new twenty-room brick school house is building, but it cannot be completed before January 1. Meanwhile there is no building in Webster suitable for school use. The public schools are occupied very near to capacity with 1,200 pupils. Two other parochial schools in Webster of French and Irish extraction are already crowded with 1,300 pupils.

committee's attention to copies of advertisements appearing in the Daily News Record of New York. One of the advertisements carried a notice of a meeting under the auspices of the New York Business Men's Republican Association. It ended with: "Space denied to The American Woolen Company, the James J. Regan Manufacturing Company, William Whitman Company, Inc., Waterhouse Worsted Company, Parker, Wilder & Co., the Schwab-Walsh Company and the United Worsted Corporation."

William Skinner, who already had testified, agreed with Frank E. Walsh's assertion that all of the concerns were "protected organizations," but disagreed with his charge that the donation violated the Federal statute prohibiting campaign contributions by corporations.

The desire for a protective tariff explains the "vital interest" of the American silk industry in the election of a Republican President, said Senator Crump.

"Acting Chairman Caraway announced he had received a telegram from George C. Morris, the Republican State chairman in New York, refusing to appear before the committee 'except on certain stipulations'."

"VOTE SLIPPING AWAY"

"I wish to state that the committee is not making any stipulations or understanding with any witness," said Senator Crump.

Joseph L. Crupper, Republican State Chairman of Virginia, was questioned regarding the check for $25,000 which he sent to D. A. Ferguson, the negro treasurer of the "Lily White" section of the Republican party in Virginia.

"What was your purpose in sending the check?" Senator Crupper asked.

"My purpose was to get the colored vote. I heard it was slipping away from us to Davis and Bryan," Henry Bonbrack, Republican National Committeeman for Connecticut, testified the Republican committee in his State had received $25,047.48 and has on hand $7,669.89.

MASKED GLAND BANDITS ARE HUNTED

Boston Police Seek Pair Who Made Attack on North Easton Man

Two masked gland bandits who attacked and operated on John Zalis, aged forty-five, of Pickers, near North Easton, are being hunted by the police of Greater Boston as well as by the State police.

It is believed they left Webster in an auto for Boston.

The attempted grand robbery took place at the Leavitt factory in North Easton, where Zalis was attacked by two gangsters.

Zalis, a widower who lives alone with his fourteen-year-old son, is employed as a transfer by the Oliver Ames corporation. Among other tasks, it is his duty to haul steel rods from the Leavitt factory to the plant of his employers.

The Leavitt factory is closed down at the present time, but the steel stock, which is used on shovel handles, is stored inside the building.

Zalis, who weighs 200 pounds, drove to the factory for a load of steel and just after entering the building, encountered two armed, masked men. They asked if Zalis was alone and when the teamster replied in the affirmative, they jumped on him and threw him to the floor.

Strapped with ropes, the bandits bound their victim and then used a knife. They left the teamster lying on the floor and disappeared.

NEW LITTLE SURGERY

After struggling for some time, Zalis freed himself and made his way to his place of employment, where he told his story. Accompanied by Chief of Police Thomas Downey of the North Boston police force, Zalis went to the office of Dr. William M. Stevenson, where his wound was dressed, after which he was removed to his home, where he is recovering.

According to Dr. Stevenson, the attack was performed by persons who had little or no knowledge of surgery.

Zalis was able to give only a meager description of his assailants on account of the masks which covered their faces. He gained the impression, however, that both were young men.

The police, so far, have been unable to ascribe a motive for the crime. Zalis has no enemies, according to the police, and bears an excellent reputation, both in the neighborhood where he resides and at his place of employment.

FOREST FIRES SPREAD OVER STATE LINE

Fighters Renew Battle in Worcester County; No
Rain in Sight

With no break in the drought in sight for at least 48 hours, forest fires raging in many sections of

New England continue an unbroken series.

The worst fire reported to State authorities is in Worcester County along the Rhode Island line and at several points the fire has been seen into Rhode Island and Connecticut.

A large band of fire fighters is working night and day to check the progress of the fire but so far their efforts have met with little success

and only a heavy rainfall holds out promise of adequate relief.

With more than 2,000 acres of woodland burned over in the Rocky

Pool-Norwalk-Monkscon fire section near Leominster, the fire fighters have finally managed to check the progress of the fire in that section and no further trouble is anticipated there.

The fire southwest of Williamstown near Hancock is also believed to be under control after burning over a large area.

As a result of the fires in various parts of the Vermont woods the authorities of that State are planning to delay the opening of the deer

hunting season.

CHINAMAN'S DEATH

STARTS TONG SCARE

The finding of the dead body of

Yee Wah You in bed at his home,

No. 82 Harrison avenue, led to a report among the residents of the Chinatown district that the Tong

had started a war in Boston and that

Yee Wah You was the first victim.

Officers from the LaGrange street station were sent to the house and were followed shortly by Medical Examiner Leary. Dr. Leary said the death of the Chinaman, who was 35

years old, was due to natural causes.

When the verdict of the medical examiner became known in the district the excitement quickly died.

WALTHAM HEAD DASHES HOPES OF STRIKERS

President Dumaine Refuses to Meet Employees in Conference

All hope of ending the Waltham Watch and Clock Company strike before Winter sets in was dealt a death blow when strike leaders announced that President F. C. Dumaine of the company had refused to meet them in conference.

Mr. Dumaine's action was made known to the strikers at a mass meeting in the Waltham State Armory.

The strikers were informed that President Dumaine would continue to receive the strikers back in the plant individually, but never in a body.

Mr. Dumaine also reiterated his attitude as expressed to the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration at the recent public hearing in Waltham, that the company would not arbitrate, but would continue to keep the reduction in wages in effect.

Officers of the strikers' organization addressed the meeting, denouncing the action of Mr. Dumaine in refusing to meet them. They pointed out that during the early part of the strike, Dumaine had assured them he was at all times ready to meet them in conference.

Their leaders urged the strikers to continue to stick together until their cause is won.

with so low a price as this, for instance, we are apt to be accused of lowering our standard of excellence.

It is a fact, however, that these pumps—(there is one oxford also)—fully meet all requirements of material, style and workmanship, and have aroused our enthusiasm and pride. This price is the result of a manufacturer's absolute necessity, which we met with cash. The price alone is lower. The standard of The Shepard Stores remains the same.

New England in General Cer-

Vote for President

Almost on the eve of election day,
the Boston American presidential preference poll of New England apparently indicates the following:
Greater Boston will declare for President Coolidge.

Manhattan will poll a vote for Coolidge approximately 44 per cent,
greater than that cast in the Bay
State for La Follette and approximately 44 per cent, larger than that for Davis.

Maine's voters will cast 81 per cent more ballots for President Coolidge than for La Follette, but

COOLIDGE FOR CHILD LABOR
AMENDMENT

White House Denies President
Has Changed His Mind
About Issue

By JOHN T. LAMBERT.
Washington, Oct. 21 (Universal).— Charges that President Coolidge has turned his back on the child labor amendment and now wants to see it rejected by the States are being denied at the White House.

President Coolidge is very anxious that child labor shall be abolished.
He urged Congress in his first message to attach child labor. He attacked child slavery in his speech of acceptance. He says to it that child labor was again assembled in the Republican platform. The official Republican handbook commends his vigorous attitude upon child labor and points with pride to the fact that when Governor of Massachusetts, he signed the forty-eight hour law despite the protests
of the textile corporations.

The issue has been flung at President Coolidge again. In his message to Congress, several corporation chiefs and at least one Republican congressman have said either that the President didn't mean what he said when he attacked child labor or that he has since changed his mind about it. The President's attitude, as being discussed in every State which met Tuesday will elect a State legislature which will act upon the child labor amendment next year.

The suggestion that the President has run about face on the amendment, brought a scornful retort
from the White House. An authoritative spokesman said that the President's views are contained in his official State papers and that if he ever has occasion to change his opinion on any important subject affecting the welfare of the Country, he would be the first to take the people of the Country into his confidence.

only 68 per cent, more for the President than for John W. Davis.

New Hampshire will give Coolidge an overwhelming majority over both La Follette and Davis.

Vermont's ballots will be greatly in preference of President Coolidge.

Rhode Island will declare approximately two to one for President
Coolidge, with Davis second and La Follette trailing.

These figures, of course, are only indicative as to preference. The preference here, however, gathered from the man on the street, the mill worker, the teacher, the long shoreman, the housewife, the stenographer with a vote, the policeman from every representative class.

The poll indicates, in New England, at least, President Coolidge's election by the popular vote.

DAVIS BRANDS
ARIEFF ACT
'ROBBERY'

New York, Oct. 20 (U.N.R.)— Branding Republican tariff laws as the indicators of financial panics, John W. Davis today denounced the Forney-McCumber act as a "robber maneuver" in the field of a series of pre-election statements.

Davis issued his denunciation on the eve of a pledge to the League of Nations issue out of politics, while denouncing the Democratic proposal for a League referendum.

"If elected President," Davis presented "I shall urge and the Democratic administration will effect a reduction of the tariff. The present law was written by republicans and the cost of living was increased. I believe it is bitterly wrong."

"Owners of a few industries enjoy unlike prosperity, but the public at large pays the bill. I do not believe there can be permanent prosperity unless our system of taxation, both direct and indirect, is to the benefit of all the people, instead of a favored few."

"We have no resentment, only sympathy, toward traitors like these. But we do not intend to withdraw the invitation extended in the form of exorbitant rates of duty, to profit,
through monopolistic control of production, exorbitant and prices."

Woman Points Out Danger
in Child Labor Program

Mrs. Nina F. Allen, formerly head of the Child Labor Tax Division, Bureau of Internal Revenue, said today that the campaign amendment of the child labor amendment is a grossly deceptive proposition.

She said the opponents of ratification of the child labor amendment, she said, is giving to Congress for all time a power over children, which in the case of a Congress dominated by vicious "blacks" or red radicals could be used to destroy the youth of the nation.

She says in part:
"This proposed amendment would confer upon the Congress the exclusive right to regulate not merely the working life of children, but every phase of the United States under eighteen years of age.
It would confer the power to prohibit all such persons from earning a livelihood at any and all forms of employment, or even to engage in any task or occupation to aid or support their parents at any time or place. It could prohibit labor at home or on the farm as well as in the factory."

DECLARES JUDGE KENYON LOYAL TO PROGRESSIVES

Chicago, Oct. 20.—John M. Kenyon, national director of the La Follette Wheelers campaign, made public today a copy of a letter from Judge William B. Kenyon, former United States Senator from Iowa, to Senator Smith W. Brookhart, who is seeking re-election on the Republican ticket in Iowa. A covered statement by Mr. Nelson interprets the letter as "showing that minority opposition from Republican rank quarters. Judge Kenyon has not deserted progressive principles nor repudiated progressive candidates."

of the house. She was taken to the tiple injuries and her nose was

'FIGHTING BOB' DEPRIVED OF RADIO AID

Western Electric Co. Unable to Furnish Loud Speaker

Outside Mechanics Hall

Something happened at the crossroads today and Senator La Follette's local campaign headquarters men are wondering if dirty work has been done or whether "it's just one of those things."

Forecasting the situation correctly, by the La Follette managers anticipated a huge overflow crowd at tonight's La Follette address in Mechanics Hall.

All reserved seat tickets have been snapped up and every indication is that the remaining seats will go rapidly and the rest of the crowd will remain outside.

PROMISED EQUIPMENT.

Arrangements were made some time ago with the Western Electric Company of Boston to furnish loud-speaker equipment from the stage to the outside, that the throng in the street might hear "Fighting Bob's" address.

Today, however, out of a clear sky, came word from the Western Electric Company that it will be unable to furnish the loud speaker equipment arranged for.

Presence of cables or something had cleaned them all out of equipment and—well, they just couldn't get the La Follette order and that was all there was to it.

Just to test their suppositions, the La Follette men enlisted the services of a radio expert. This jobber, according to La Follette headquarters, represented in the Western Electric Company today that he was in need of a loud speaker outfit of the kind in question.

The Western Electric assured the other that they certainly could fill his order on the spot for $1200, despite their previous assurance to the La Follette camp that such a thing was impossible.

ONLY ONE WAS TAKEN.

For the other side of the story, Mr. J. G. Gilmore, general supply manager of the Western Electric Company in Boston, declared today:

"The La Follette people asked me to

WINSOME DEBUTANTES

Left to right, the Misses Priscilla and Louise Waterman, debutantes of the season, Mrs. George Waterman, is giving a luncheon for them next Wednesday. The girls are seen here as they assisted at a charity function staged recently on Chestnut Hill way.

Be quite unappreciative of the effort made to obtain a loud speaker for them. They did not want to buy but to rent.

A Boston firm rented and later bought the only one on hand and renting. It was impossible to get a new one from the factory in time for use tonight.

We tried to borrow one from Brockton, but were unable to do so.

Manager Gilmore denied that a loud speaker could be bought through a dealer and that his company had any intention of hindering the La Follette meeting.

Now the La Follette men are wondering some as to whether anything is hiding in any nearby woods in the meantime, however, they are hurrying madly about town in an endeavor to obtain other loud speaker equipment.

INDIAN ORCHARD COAL PLANT HAS BIG FIRE

Springfield, Oct. 29.—Damage of between $30,000 and $40,000 resulted today from the burning of the coal stock, grain warehouse and sheds of the Indian Orchard Coal Company. Several nearby dwellings were endangered.

SCORES MILLION.

Senator La Follette recalled the Secretary's controversy with Senator Cousins, Republican, of Michigan, over income tax rates while the revenue bill was before the Senate.

Mellon held that high tax rates would result in a great loss in Federal revenues by driving productive capital into tax exempt securities. Cousins rapped this contention in several letters to Mellon.

"Secretary Mellon showed no tendency to convert for the secretary of the Treasury when during his controversy with Senator Cousins he himself made public sources and amounts of Cousins' personal income by the law except as authorized by the President," said La Follette.

"It would be like the case of President Coolidge authorizing the publication of Senator Cousins' income."

"The administration realizes that publication of these lists from day to day and the scandalous evasions of taxes revealed is making millions of votes for the Progressive ticket. Surely the Attorney-General is enough of a lawyer to know that the courts will eventually hold that his interpretation is repugnant to the constitutional guarantee of the freedom of the press. But he wants to stop the publication of any more lists at least until after election."

GIRLS TO UNITE.

Music at tonight's rally will be furnished by Ives Band, and 200 college girls from Radcliffe, Wellesley and other institutions in the State will act as ushers.

Growing reports of the progress of the La Follette campaign in the west and southwest have been brought from New York headquarters by Manager Rowser.

"These reports," he said, "indicate that La Follette will carry Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Washington, California, Nebraska, Iowa. In addition, and southwest have been brought from New York headquarters by Manager Rowser.

"The Mechanics Hall rally La Follette's speech will be preceded by a play by Frederic C. Howe of New York. Howe is an author, lawyer and tax expert. So that over-crowded may not be disappointed, arrangements have been made for loudspeakers on West Newton way."

On the platform, a large welcoming committee will, headed by George F. Williams, former United States Minister to Greece, who will preside at the meeting.

THERE is special interest in the production which the Theatre Guild is putting on at the Fine Arts Theatre on Thursday and Friday of next week.

Three one-act plays are to be given at this first production of the Guild for the season: "The Daughter of the Sun God," by C. FIGHT FIRE LIVE WIRES FALL IN MALDEN

Providence, R.I., Oct. 30.—Spontaneous combustion in paint and chemicals started a fire in the basement of Rogers Hall, a Brown University laboratory.

A large force of men and police fought the fire on the evening of Oct. 29. The fire was caused by a large force of men and police.

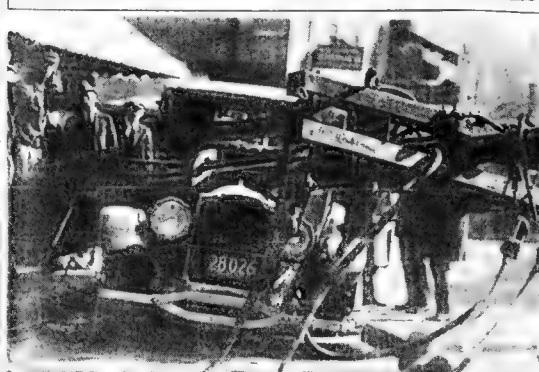

The blaze was caused by William P. Brown, from the heating plant in the Rogers Hall. He was mounded in arms and many pieces of fire fighting apparatus and details of police were called to the scene. Numerous pails of water poured into the building prevented the fire from traveling further into the basement, but it is necessary to chop holes in the floor of rooms that had eaten into the partitions between smoke, rolling a from the burning stores of chemicals caused much damage to the building.

The collapse of an iron, Boston Elevated, railway pole, carrying two high-power cables, nearly caused the death of an aged man, threatened scores of persons with injury, crashed an automobile and blocked all vehicular traffic at Pleasant and Dartmouth streets, in the business section of Malden, today.

George Gifford was at the scene of the crash. He was the driver of the automobile which was crushed by the pole. The pole was the main support of the cables.

Stewart was not at the scene of the crash. He was the driver of the automobile which was crushed by the pole. The pole was the main support of the cables. The crash occurred at the intersection of Pleasant and Dartmouth streets.

'MYSTERY GAS' POISON CURE DISCOVERED
Death List Now Five; Hope to Save the Lives of 30 Other Victims
New York, Oct. 30.—With five men dead and another confined in a straitjacket in a state of violent delirium, hope came for the first time today to thirty other victims of the mysterious gas made in the research laboratories of the Russian Plant of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey at Easthamp, where it was announced that a cure had been discovered.

Doctors at reconstruction hospital here, where many victims of the lethal fumes are still undergoing treatment, announced that it had been definitely determined that the man was suffering from infiltration of lead into his system. It was also announced that these days of experimentation had revealed that the antidote for this poisoning was hypodermic of soda which when injected intravenously, was found to dissolve the lead in the body tissues. It also was discovered that large doses of common sodium bicarbonate brought relief which ordinary sedatives had failed to give.

DARTMOUTH AND BROWN FIT FOR BATTLE AT HANOVER

SHELDON IS BACK IN LINEUP

BY NICK FLATLEY

THESE are no serious injuries on the Brown squad, nobody of Dartmouth was seriously wounded at Hanover, so the battle in the title of Hanover Saturday will be fought on its merits. And it has plenty of merits. The big Green team is anxious to be declared the champion of the world or something like that when a few weeks have rolled in.

The big Brown team is eager to erase the effects of a couple of beatings—by Yale and Chicago. The only way that can be done is a victory over the Indians. So you can see for yourself that the respective young men who play football for these traditional rivals will have plenty of incentive to out loose in New Hampshire.

Tully, the big end and drop kicker, who hurt his shoulder against Harvard. He is wearing a bad bruise, which is unfortunate for the young man, as Sage, who is filling in, is putting up a real scrap for the regular position. The sub, in the Crimson game did some vicious tackling and showed all the qualifications of a real end. Tully will, of course, be called on when a kick may mean points, although he didn't display many of the kicking characteristics on two open ends at the stadium crossover.

CAPTAIN SHELDON of Brown, who has been out of real competition for several weeks with a bad knee is sufficiently recovered to practice with the team this week, and will start Saturday's game. Unless he sticks this bad prop into further trouble, he will probably play through. Kicker one of "Cal" Robinson's star roles, was out-juggled and bumped in the Yale game. He has been vacationing a couple of days, and will be ready to be back in his best shape Saturday.

TERRIERS HOPE TO SCARE CRIMSON WITH PASSES

THE game itself will quite likely be a study in psychology, which Peter Haughton demonstrated as one of the principal parts of football. The Dartmouth team will be a favorite, and will be in great danger of a let down. After the Yale and Harvard tests, Brown will not be considered such a tough opponent. This belief will be subconscious, but it will be present just the same, and may help the Providence invaders.

BROWN always gives Dartmouth a tough battle. No matter what goes before, the Bruins come along with enough punch and kick to make a large, bruising impression. Brown, the Fall out, Yare, and Dave Chicago, a great team a while back in the early stages of the campaign. The team has speed and splendid coaching and will be out to win this game as the season's objective—even though Harvard comes later on.

When Harvard meets Dartmouth Saturday at the Stadium Saturday somebody is in for a surprise. The nature of that surprise lies in the development of the Terriers' over-head game. It is no secret that B. U. would like to hang a defeat on the Terriers. Neither is it a secret that if they can't win they're going to give all they've got to hold the score down. Over at the Stadium they have taken the November 1 date lightly and published reports to the effect that Fisher will use a substitute back and has left a bad taste out in Copple square.

The development of B. U.'s over-head attack received a setback at West Point when Art Connelly, left end, received a twisted neck which will keep him out of the game for the rest of the year. Bill McKinley, on the other hand, is having trouble with several ribs out of alignment and the chances are he will not be able to take part in the Stadium encounter.

ACID TEST FOR STASIAK IN BINKLEY GO

Stanley Stasiak, Polish lion, and Boston's favorite mat performer, will be given the acid test tonight at the Grand Opera House when he tackles Cliff Binkley, "The 10th Century Cave Man," to a positive finish. Binkley comes from the Middle West with a brilliant record. Al Huff, veteran wrestler and promoter who has used the big fellow from Ohio, speaks well of his work. The bout between these two big fellows is by far the best put on at the Grand this year and the followers of Stasiak and the new friends that Binkley has made during his training sessions are sure to be on hand for the occasion.

Tufts Regains Pett for Line Play

Merrie Pett, veteran tackle, will rejoin the Tufts squad today and will start against Wesleyan Saturday at Middlebury Ct. Pett was declared ineligible because of weight difficulties before the season opened. Pett's return gives more balance and power to the Jumbo line. Dean True, center, and Harry Pinkston, guard, will be unable to play Saturday. True is bothered by injured ribs, while Pinkston's bad leg will keep him on the side line. Jack Wilson has been moved back to his regular pivot position assignment. "Jumbo" Spofford has received Fincklen.

STATLER, JR., SEEMED TO BE DRUNK, SAY POLICE

Strawson, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Twenty minutes before the trial of the accused in the case of the death of a young woman, it was alleged that the defendant, John Statler, Jr., seemed to be drunk, say police.

The youth was arrested after an accident. Police officers who arrested Statler, testified the boy bore every evidence of being intoxicated.

In J. Victor Haberman, New York City news specialist, a witness for Statler declared the boy's conduct at the time of the accident might have been due to an attack of "Hemiparesis," a nerve disorder similar to St. Vitus dance.

Rough treatment by the policemen who arrested Statler, declared attorneys will attempt to show, caused a recurrence of the chorea.
